A heavy hail storm passed over the Joppa country last Friday, doing a great deal of damage. The hail stones were as large as guinea eggs, and the storm lasted about thirty minutes. In many corn fields the blades were torn to pieces, and cabbage and beans, in fact, all kinds of vegetables were damaged.

Several hundred people spent the Fourth very delightfully at the Russell Springs. Many people were present with baskets and those who were not fed on the grounds were entertained at the Kimble Hotel. There were music, games and races during the day, affording much enjoyment. Credit is due Mr. J. H. Payne who had charge and managed the picnic.

BARGAINS.

In order to make room for my Fall and Winter stock of goods I am selling at cost. MRS. BIRDIE STRANGE. 35-2t

The institute at Jamestown last week was largely attended by teachers and spectators. Thursday night Prof. M. M. Moss, of the Lindsay-Wilson Training School, delivered a very interesting lecture. There were other exercises during the evening, Miss Katie Murrell, of this place, rendering several recitations. A large audience was present, the program being pronounced very entertaining.

Alexander Jackson, of color, who was a son of Parker Jackson, the well-known colored teacher of this county, died at the home of his father, last Friday morning. His home was in Louisville and he arrived in Columbia two months ago, thinking that his health would improve. He was a victim of consumption and was twenty-six years old. His remains were shipped to Louisville for interment.

We understand that there is a saloon in Metcalfe county, just over the Adair line, about one mile from Breeding, on the hickerville road, that is giving the good people of the neighborhood a great deal of trouble. The man who runs the "shop" is protected by Government and county license. It has been in operation several months, and it is said that the proprietor is kept busy handing out liquor. In our judgment it is only a question of a short time when a bloody trouble will occur at the place. The location is fourteen miles from Columbia.

Mr. Luther Williams, Montpelier, was in Columbia Thursday. He informed the News that he recently sold his interest in the telephone system of Russell county to Mr. W. S. Knight and Mr. W. C. Grider, two enterprising gentlemen, who are in better position to look after the lines, as they live in said county. Mr. Williams desires to return his thanks to those who liberally patronized the system under his management and cheerfully recommends his successors as gentlemen worthy the confidence of the public. This sale took effect June 1st.

THE FOURTH AT EDMONTON.

About two thousand people assembled at Edmonton last Wednesday and very appropriately celebrated Independence Day. Notwithstanding the large number of people, the order was exceptionally good throughout. There was but little evidence of whisky, only one or two persons being seen who were slightly intoxicated.

Several speakers, who had been invited, failed to put in their appearance, but the crowd was delightfully entertained by local orators. There was an abundance of every thing good to eat, and it goes without saying that it was very much enjoyed.

The Columbia Brass Band furnished the music, and the boys are loud in their praises of the courteous and hospitable treatment. They were joyously entertained at the Edmonton Hotel, and during the day they formed many pleasant acquaintances. At 4:30 in the afternoon they left for Columbia, receiving many cordial invitations to again return to Edmonton.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF ADAIR COUNTY.

I have just received from the State Board of Equalization notice of the property valuation as fixed by the Board for Adair County. Before receiving this notice I could not, under the law, collect the taxes. As the time is so short in which to collect them, I ask the tax payers to be prompt in the payment of them that I may be ready for the settlements and payments required of me by law. My office at Columbia is open at all times for the collection of taxes. I will also fix times and places in the different precincts at which I, or one of my Deputies, will expect all parties who have not paid before to meet us and pay. Under the present law Sheriffs are required to report and pay the Auditor State Taxes a month earlier than heretofore, and to report all persons delinquents who have not paid before that time. W. B. PATTERSON, Sheriff. July 5, 1906.

PREACHING NEXT SUNDAY.

J. L. Atkins, Albany.
W. H. C. Sandidge, Union.
J. F. Roach, Pierce's Chapel.
A. R. Kasey, Columbia.
W. A. Grant, Cane Valley.

Miss Mattie Squires entertained last Saturday evening in honor of her cousin, Miss Quincy Walkup, of Memphis, Texas. All the young people in the neighborhood answered to invitations, and the evening was most delightfully spent. Miss Walkup is accomplished and very entertaining, and is making many friends among the young people in the vicinity where she is visiting. She is a daughter of Mr. Matthew Walkup, a native of Adair county, and who left the Glenfork county for Texas, many years ago. The Misses Noel also of Memphis, Texas, who are visiting at the home of Mr. W. F. Squires, were honored guests. Refreshments were served and enchanting music rendered. Miss Mattie Squires assisted by her sister, Miss Kate, entertained most charmingly.

Mrs. Charlotte Patterson, of this county, a lady more than eighty years of age, started to Texas one day last week, her nephew, Mr. Geo. H. Nell, accompanying her. At Columbia she was taken sick and at this writing she is far from being well enough to travel. She stopped at the Marcus Hotel, her nephew doing everything in his power to bring about favorable conditions. Her improvement at this writing is perceptible, but it will likely be several weeks before she can again start on her trip.

We call attention to the Advertisement of the sale of lots, by Mr. R. O. Mulligan in this issue. That advertisement speaks for itself, but had we written it, it would have been braced up in stronger terms than it appears, since Mr. Mulligan's extreme conservatism prevents him from giving any expression beyond what he believes to be absolutely certain. In other words he confines his statements too close to present conditions, while we believe in showing the brightest future that may reasonably be expected for Columbia, warranted by the recent past, and realized under our present, prosperous conditions that really and truly forebode greater possibilities than his statements justify. The fact is as we see it, Columbia is expanding and growing in every line, and the day is not far distant when her resources will be doubled or quadrupled, made so by the power of enterprise on the part of her progressive citizens, stimulated as we hope, by reasonably good railroad facilities for developing the great and varied natural products of this part of the State. The projected line from a point on the Cincinnati Southern, Burgin or Danville, to the coal fields and valuable forests South of the Cumberland, has not been abandoned by its promoters and its consideration and progress by outside capitalists is being advanced in a most encouraging way to all familiar with the real merits of the proposition. While this road is not a certainty, yet it is within reasonable limits of expectation. Aside from this, the reports from various points indicate, that at last, the road from Scottsville to Stanford will be built, and that the near future will become the active period in opening up and developing this country. With either line of road Columbia would as readily respond to the great opening of the country as a rubber ball against a wall. In the failure of either her growth might steadily continue and values advance to a reasonable degree. In view of the past and present, and facing the brightest future possibilities, we cannot see any reason why Mr. Mulligan can not hope for a full number of buyers to take every lot in his beautiful plot of ground at fair prices. If you want to share in the future blessings of Columbia's growth and prosperity, you are unquestionably given an opportunity. Read his advertisement and attend the sale.

The most beautiful and elaborate affair of the season, a six o'clock dinner, was given by Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Bean at their beautiful home in North Middletown, Wednesday evening. The entertainment was given in honor of the charming and talented visitor, Miss Daut Marcum, of Columbia, Ky., who is the visitor of Miss Oda Kash. The home was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being pink and green. An elaborate six course dinner was enjoyed by the following: Miss Daut Marcum, of Columbia, Ky., Nellie Boardman, of Carlisle, Carrie Skillman, of Roswell, New Mexico, Iva Collins, of Paris, Oda Kash, Nancy Bryan, Dannie Evans, Lena Talbot, Sybil Kern, Leslie Jones, Lily Williams, Sadie Young, Oia D. Cralle, Evaline Brown and Mrs. Ida Everman, of North Middletown, Mrs. Graft Patterson, of Columbia, Ky., Messrs. Will Taylor and Dr. Chas. G. Daugherty, of Paris, Robert Kerns, of St. Louis, F. S. Kerr, Bennett Bean, Calvert Meng, John W. Jones, J. W. Young, Dr. Lee Collins Redmon, Henry Bratton, Prof. Henry Elliott, Roy McCraw. Printed programs with the following unique subjects, Weather, Home Coming, Your Hobby, Dancing, Life, History of Your Heart, Nesting Book, Your Ideal, Latest Fad, Flirting, Your Ambition, Gossiping, were handed the guests at the close of the dinner and for ten minutes discussing this proved a most interesting form of entertainment and was much enjoyed by all. Paris Democrat.

POULTRY LICE.

Fowls are hard to protect from lice largely on account of the number of fowls that must be kept by any one man who expects to make much money out of them. If a 1,000 pound steer or horse has lice, the treatment of that animal for the parasites is not a great task; but it is far different if 1,000 pounds of chickens have to be treated. That might mean as many as 200 fowls to be washed, dipped or otherwise handled and cared for.

There are several ways of killing lice, but the most thorough way is to wash the fowl with soap and water. A poultry exhibitor said to the writer: "If the man that has lousy hens will wash them as the showman does his birds he will have no trouble with lice, provided he does not again permit them to come in contact with other birds that are lousy." His method of washing was to make a strong lather of soap and water and scrub the birds thoroughly. The lather was worked into the feathers and under all of them and was again and again washed off. This kind of treatment gets rid of the lice and leaves the birds absolutely clean.

The next best thing in the opinion of the Farmer's Review is perhaps grease put under the wings' under the tail feathers and on top of the head. Sooner or later the lice on the hen will take refuge in the places mentioned and will become covered with grease, which will in turn cause the stoppage of the breathing pores of the insects and hence strangulation. This is the current opinion, but whether all the lice do thus commit suicide is a question that is hard to settle. Certain it is that the application of grease does greatly reduce the number of lice infesting the fowls.—Rural World.

SORE SHOULDERS.

It is cruel to work a horse that has a sore shoulder. Yet we see many a horse pulling against a raw shoulder.

Too little attention is paid to the fit of the collar. The hired men often sling on any collar that is handy whether it was bought for that particular horse or not.

The collar should fit—be just right in length and shape. If worn by the same horse all the time it will shape itself to the neck. But nothing can overcome a wrong size. It must be snug, but not tight, free, but not too loose. The hames must be adjusted right. If the top strap is too tight the neck is pinched, and the tugs raised too high. If the top strap is too long the tightening of the hame strap below causes a bad fit and may throw the pulling joint of tugs too low down.

Horses' necks differ in shape and it is wrong to make them wear a collar that was fitted to another horse. You would have galled feet if you wore other than your own shoes. Much worse for the horse that pulls a load with a misfit collar.

Consider the cleanliness of the collar and the shoulders. A sweaty roughness accumulates on a collar in a short time. Keep the mane out from under the collar. Bathe the shoulders frequently to keep the skin free from salty, irritating sweat. Do as you would be done by.—Successful farming.

MARKETING AND PROFITS.

The largest profits must come from superior marketing and from special market advantages in selling eggs and stock. A difference of only a few cents a dozen makes a large increase in the income when several hundred fowls are kept. For example, the average highest market price per year for eggs in New York City is about twenty-one cents per dozen.

A certain poultryman who has 1,000 hens sold his eggs last year for an average of seven cents a dozen above the highest market. Assuming that he sold from each fowl ten dozen eggs per year, which is a fair but not a high average, we find that at seven cents per dozen he received seventy cents per hen over and above what he would have received if he had sold the eggs at the highest wholesale quotation. Therefore from his 1,000 hens he received the very comfortable sum of $700. This was all clear profit, due entirely to good business methods, neat crates, careful grading of eggs, cleanliness, quality of products and regularity of shipments throughout the year.—James E. Rice, Cornell Station.

DIFFERENTLY EXPRESSED.

Two groups of people were seated in the waiting-room of a railroad station. One consisted of a young man and two young ladies dressed in the height of fashion, the other, a man and his wife not so fashionably attired.

They had been there only a few minutes when a girl came in whose complexion was as nearly perfect as anything in this world ever is.

While she was buying her ticket the young man remarked to the ladies with him:

"Isn't Miss Cransford a beauty? her complexion is as perfect as a rose."

At the same time the other man clutched his wife's arm and whispered:

"Lord, Nan, hasn't that gal got purty hide."—Lippincott's Magazine.

TO KEEP OFF HAWKS.

A Massachusetts correspondent of the Rural New Yorker gives the following advice on how to keep hawks away from chicken yards:

"In the first place, my chicken yard is fenced with poultry netting, small mesh at bottom, large mesh at top. Lengthwise of the field I run wires, telegraph wire or wire half as large, on high posts ten feet above the ground and about thirty feet apart. Across these wires I stretch common twine, such as is used for lining corn fields. Just how frequently these lines stretch across the wires I do not know, but last season mine were not more than four or five feet apart. I think these lines should cover the entire field to the outermost edge. This costs something—a small sum of money for material, some labor and considerable time—but it is a satisfaction to let one's chicks out and feel that they are safe.

"I never saw a hawk in my chicken yard last season after the lines were put up. Put up the posts and wires substantially, and they will remain several years. The twine will need renewing every season, although with care, taking down and rolling it up in the fall, it might be made to do duty two seasons. I also hang upon the wire some strips of colored cloth and some shiny pieces of tin. Shiny bottles suspended also are good."

QUESTION ANSWERED.

The question was asked in the columns of your paper how many times the word children was used in the Bible.

Several things conspired to cause a delay in answering said question. Last I might seem to pose as an adept or expert in Bible matters, I say I stand for correction.

I find the compound word children, appears twice, and women-child, once. It seems that the book of Numbers leads in the number of the word children, while several of the books of the Bible did not mention the word referred to. Nahum it seems just did save his skirts, as he only gave utterance to said word once. I find that in one verse the word children appears eight times.

You will bear in mind that the word children is in some Bibles a great many more times than in others. I find the word children used in the Bible 1905 times. If you will indulge me, I would like to ask the "Up-to-date Bible student" a question of some importance. It seems that Paul had a "scrap" with some of his followers because they claimed that the resurrection had been already, and in consequence thereof he turned them over to Satan to receive their reward. Their is nothing plainer to me in the Bible, than that there has been two resurrections. How does this harmonize with the gentleman above referred to? I further claim that the Bible tells plainly of people being created before or built, and that he was not comprehended when God looked up and saw that the heaven and earth and the host therein were complete. It might have been, a thousand years after said completion before Adam was formed. Where is the word "wench" in the Bible? For fear my letter will meet that convenient receptacle—waste basket, I will close. Yours sincerely,

HENRY C. WALLACE, D. H.

Campbell & Stotts are removing their saw mill to Cumberland county this week.

D. T. McKinney and wife, of Jeffersonville, Ind., spent last week with their parents at this place.

Finis and Eldridge Stotts have returned from Jeffersonville, Ind. They seem to like the Hoosiers very well and talk of going back in a few weeks.

Mrs. Lora Garman and little daughter and Finis McKinney, of Metcalfe, visited relatives here Friday and Saturday.

J. C. Cummins will start out with his threshing machine next Monday.

James Holt got his leg broken at his steam mill this week.

Rev. A. Whitten is in Louisville attending the conference of United Brethren.

Mrs. Wm Cook is much improved in health.

A little son of J. E. Hale fell and broke his thigh June 17.

The wife of Dudley Grider was buried near Esto June 25. She was a victim of consumption.

S. I. Blair is with us this week in the insurance business.

John Voils and wife attended District Conference at Monticello last week.

Tom Selby lost a good horse by lightning last Sunday, 24th ult. Great damage was done in localities by the rain and windstorm on that date.

John Voils started his threshing last week and reports wheat extra good in quality and quantity. We can have cakes for breakfast now.

The Kentucky Railroad Commission last week, after several months of investigation, rendered a decision materially reducing freight rates in the State. The L. & N. road has the greatest mileage in the State and is probably affected more seriously than any other road operating in the State.

In substance the decision directs that rates on the L. & N. for hauls of ten miles or less be reduced 20 per cent.; for hauls longer than ten miles 25 per cent. Other roads are required to regulate their scale of rates to correspond with those of the L. & N.

LAWTON, CANADA.

Editor News:

As I passed through your town on my way to visit a brother and some nephews I have in North Dakota, I subscribed for your paper and find it a great treat while so far away from home. I landed in Portal, N. D., May 31st, and put up at Grand View Hotel until my brother came after me next day and then we had to drive 55 miles to a little post office called Loweton, just across the line into Canada, where my brother had homesteaded after renting his farm in Dakota.

I have found this country in the North-west far ahead of my expectations. It seems to be a great country for small grain, such as wheat, oats, flax, etc. It was quite a show to me to see the farmers running their gang plows with eight horses abreast breaking the raw prairie sod.

I can look out and see green fields of wheat running for miles and miles just as green as can be and the soil seems to be just as rich and fertile as our best river bottoms in Russell county.

I was told by some farmers in this section they make 30 bushels of wheat and from 50 to 75 bushels oats per acre. I am satisfied they certainly raise good feed of some kind for I never in all my life saw as many big fine work teams as I have since coming to this part of the world and by the way everything seems to be in a rush and emigrants are coming in this neighborhood from all parts of the compass and they all seem to be good healthy men and women and in truth good neighbors all whom I have talked with appear to be in a fine humor and very lively.

They have a little town here just four years old, Estevan is its name and almost as large as Columbia now with 48 new buildings now going up, with two banks and one news paper.

Yours Truly,
T. C. Grider.

ROWENA.

Crops are looking very well in this section.

Shelby and White were here a few days ago buying cattle and sheep.

Mr. Sheb Ballou and family, who have been visiting relatives here will leave for their home in Kansas this week. They will be accompanied by Miss Marvin Ballou.

Miss Mae Dunbar attended Institute at Jamestown last week.

Mrs. P. V. Ballou visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lester, at Kendall, a few days ago.

Campbell brothers, were in our midst last week looking after stock.

Mr. McGuthrie and family, of Kansas, visited the family of M. F. Guthrie, a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Longfellow who have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rowe, returned to their home at Niles, Okla., last week, accompanied by Miss Nannie Rowe.

Miss Hulda McFarland is visiting relatives in Ganns bottom. The party given by the Misses Rowe's, a few nights ago was largely attended and enjoyed by all present.

FROM CALLAO MISSOURI.

Editor, News:—

Having read an account of the meeting of the Home Comers at Columbia I wish to say it brought fresh recollections of days gone by.

Some twenty-two years ago when I left the farm on Russell creek near Columbia, I came to north Missouri, after coming to Missouri I settled in Bevier, a mining town of 4 or 5 thousand inhabitants, after living there for ten years I purchased and moved to a farm northwest of Callao, Macon county, near the Chariton river. A portion of my farm is on the Chariton bottom.

Generally north Missouri is a stock country, most all kinds of stock being raised extensively including horses, mules, cattle, sheep and hogs. Land sells at from $25 to $50 per acre owing to location and improvements. It will produce from one to two tons of timothy, clover and hay per acre. The yield of corn is from 50 to 60 bushels per acre. Wheat and oats are also profitably grown.

On account of the continued dry weather in the early Summer, the hay crop will be short. Oats will be light this season. Wheat crop is good, also fine prospect for corn. We have a heavy crop of peaches, and the apple crop is above the average.

In conclusion will say to my friends in Old Adair County, I would like the best kind to have met with you, but I hope to live so that some day when I am done with the battles of life, I will be able to meet you in a reunion where there will be no parting.

Your friend,
A. WATSON.

ROSE FARM OF TWELVE ACRES.

One of the most interesting sights in the Pomona valley is the development work now being done by the California Rose company on its rose farm at the foot of White avenue. Here may be seen literally acres of roses, the slips being planted a few weeks ago, covering the entire twelve-acre tract, in rows about three feet apart.

The plants are about six inches in height, and here and there over the tract many of them are in bloom. It will be a beautiful sight when the rose bushes are grown to two or three feet in height, all in bloom.

The work of irrigating and tending the plants at this time of year requires about twenty-five men. From December until April, during the shipping season, probably fifty to seventy-five people will be kept busy. At this season the young plants are being pushed as rapidly as tender care, good soil, the available amount of sunshine and constant irrigating will accomplish it.—Pomona Times.

INCORPORATED.

CHAS. S. HARRIS, EDITOR

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interests of the city of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Postoffice as second-class mail matter.

WED., JULY 11, 1906.

The greatest proposition before the people of this section of the country is the making and maintaining of good roads, and there is not a progressive section in the entire county but is wrestling, more or less, with the same momentous question. The fact is that it is of so much importance, so closely allied with the full development of our country and reaches out to the doors of the very bone and sinews of the land that the shaping of and entering into some system of substantial road building can not longer be delayed, by the people of this part of the State, without seriously impairing our future development and advancing values. The Fiscal Court made a levy last April of 20 cents to the $100 valuation, for the purpose of making a few miles of pike road, but up to date no plan has been outlined and no road built with that appropriation. Not in the capacity of an adviser are we inclined to speak, but as an interested citizen of this county we insist that delay is dangerous. Day by day the season for building roads is rapidly passing and unless the court takes some action within a few weeks the coming winter will be on us again with the same old mud holes throughout the county and the people discouraged rather than encouraged. The proper expenditure of the levy made would probably build 5 or 6 miles of first-class road and would prepare the people for a full and hearty endorsement of their action. Again if the county would inaugurate a system of making good roads it would give encouragement to other agencies for aiding in the work and within a few years we would not only be enjoying good roads but sharing in increased prosperity and advancing land values. But, if our county is to stick to old conditions, and drag along behind the progressive spirit of this age, we may expect to lose a large per cent. of our most progressive young men. Enterprise, ambition and ability will not choose mud nor remain in a non-progressive community when the broad field of activity is open and inviting. In many counties of the State the building of pike roads has steadily been pursued for several years and their success should be inspiring to us. Washington county, a few miles north of us, has made a good showing and is still keeping up the good work. Today that county has 225 miles of pike road, outside of Springfield, and every mile belongs to the county. The greatest distance any family from a pike will not exceed 2 1/2 miles. This year the court of that county appropriated $6,000 for making new roads, the building of cross roads is now receiving attention. The value of land doubled as the pikes were built and business in every part of the county increased rapidly. In Marion county similar work is being done. Both counties have graders and crushers and where ever the people want roads and are willing to help build them the county does its part. In view of the bad roads throughout the county, that we are able to make them better and that the people are anxious and ready to inaugurate a system of building substantial roads, we outlined in its April term, will be speedily put into execution. Gentlemen of the court, why not have a call meeting to consider this proposition only? Meet and develop some plan of operation and start the work while good results can be accomplished. The News is ready and willing to aid in any way it can.

JUDGE HAGER ANNOUNCES.

To the Democrats of Kentucky:

At the approaching primary I shall offer to the Democratic voters of the State, for their consideration, my name as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and whether in my aspirations and ambitions I be successful or suffer the disappointment of defeat, I pledge in advance, to the ticket that may be selected, my most earnest and hearty support. Twice has my party honored me in elevating me to positions of trust and honor and my heart is filled with gratitude for the loyal support given me, and the devotion with which my friends have followed my fortune in the past, and it has been my earnest and honest endeavor to show my appreciation of their devotion by so conducting the affairs of my office as to merit the confidence reposed in me.

As to whether or not I have honestly, conscientiously and efficiently discharged my duty as a public servant, I leave to the impartial judgment of fair minded Kentuckians. If my official services have not met the requirements of an exacting but just public, if in my official capacity, I have willfully or flagrantly failed to guard and protect the interests of the public, then I do not deserve the favorable consideration of the Democrats of the State. If however, my six and one-half years services, as an officer and as a member of the various official boards and commissions, have proven satisfactory to the people, then the experience I have derived from all the branches of the executive department of government, by reason of such services, should commend itself as an argument strongly in my favor, because I would be better equipped for the discharge of the duties of the office of Governor by reason of my knowledge of and familiarity with the details of the various departments of the State.

If my ambition should be gratified, I should endeavor to give to the State an administration conducted upon the principles of business, and with the same regard for economy and effectiveness as that which marks the conduct of any large private business. Very truly yours,

S. W. HAGER.

WINFREY - McCREARY.

Springfield, Mo.
July 4, 1906.

Mr. Editor:-

In the last issue of your valuable paper I read the announcement of my old friend, M. O. Winfrey, for the office of Superintendent of public instruction of Kentucky subject to the Democratic Primary Nov. 6, 1906. As I am so situated that I can not come to Kentucky to speak in the interest of his candidacy, will ask permission to say something through the columns of your paper. I have known Mr. Winfrey many years, and know him to be a man of high integrity, competent, qualified, and more; he is an educator standing in the front rank, energetic and progressive, having the interest of the children and teachers at heart, and will bring about new and needed legislation and reforms, if elected. Let every Democrat in old Adair turn out and cast his ballot for her worthy son, whom I used to call "Little Matt."

I also read the announcement of Hon. James B. McCreary, asking the Democrats of Kentucky to endorse him for a second term as United States Senator. I regret that it is not in my power to give him the nomination which he asks and so justly deserves. He has been a faithful official and a loyal democrat, whenever tried. A man of the highest integrity in private and public life. A man against whom no accusation has ever been made, one who stands as the peer of any man in Congress.

In addition to the faithful discharge of his official duties, he has for the last quarter of a century worked hard and earnestly in all the State and National Campaigns for the success of candidates and party principles.

It seems to me that if Kentucky Democrats consider age, ability, experience, party-service, precedents, and justice they will certainly give him a hearty endorsement for second term.

Yours Truly,
N. B. MILLER.

FOR STATE TREASURER.

Madisonville, Ky. June 28th '06.
Mr. Chas. Harris:-

I am a candidate before the State Democratic Primary Election, for the office of State Treasurer.

I very much desire your support and influence in this undertaking, and if I should be so fortunate as to have it, I desire to assure you of my lasting gratitude.

I want you to investigate my standing as a Democrat, also, my qualification for the office. I am seeking. Should you become satisfied along these lines, then if you can see your way clear to assist me, you would confer a favor that would never be forgotten.

I do not want to see Republican rule in Kentucky, we will not see it, if the flag of Democracy waves over an united party.

Hoping to have the pleasure of meeting you before the canvass closes, and counting you as one of my best friends, I am,

Yours truly,

AUCTION SALE

OF TOWN LOTS

Columbia, Adair County, Kentucky,

JULY—26—1906.

RAILROAD A CERTAINTY.

R. O. MULLIGAN, of Scottsville, Ky., has succeeded in acquiring some of the property formerly known as the WILSON Tract of Land on the East of Columbia between the Jamestown pike and the Somerset road, directly South and adjacent to the Lindsay-Wilson Training School property.

This property, the most beautiful portion of the town for residences, has heretofore been unpurchasable.

This section, containing a number of acres, has been laid off in lots with convenient streets and alleys all graded nicely.

ON THURSDAY JULY 26, 1906,
These Lots Amounting to 50 or 75 Will be Sold to the Highest and Best Bidder

ON THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

One-Third Cash, One-Third in Six Months and One-Third in Twelve Months from date of sale with legal interest from date. Lien Retained.

LOCATION.

Columbia is situated near the center of Adair county, one of the best counties in the State; in the valley between Muldraugh's Hill and the Cumberland Mountains about 100 miles from Louisville, Ky., and in a direct line of the L. & N. railroad which is being extended to Stanford, Ky., from Scottsville, Ky.

INHABITANTS.

Columbia is a town of 1,000 or 1,200 inhabitants and is growing rapidly; will double in the next three years.

BUSINESS POINT.

Columbia is now the business point in this section, having a large territory to draw from—all of Adair and Russell counties and when the railroad is completed will be the trading point of all the country north of the Cumberland river.

ENTERPRISES.

Columbia has four dry goods stores, six grocery stores, one exclusive furniture establishment, two hardware and saddlery houses, two undertakers' establishments, three planing mills, three hotels, three banks, which have on deposit over $375,000, spoke and singletree factory, three stave yards, four lumber yards, vast quantity of lumber, telephone system, local and long distance, two flourishing newspapers, having large circulations in Adair and adjoining counties, electric light plant, large street lamps, two first-class livery stables, five blacksmith shops equipped for doing all kinds of iron and wood work, one wholesale grocery and three poultry houses.

STOCK MARKET.

Columbia is the horse and mule market for a large section of country, buyers attending from all over the State of Kentucky, Tennessee and other portions of the South.

LOCAL OPTION.

Columbia was the pioneer town to vote local option and has been dry for thirty-nine years. No liquor made or sold in the county of Adair. The "home coming," the 19th, of June, gathered together 5,000 people and not an intoxicated man seen. It has the most beautiful Fair Grounds in the State.

Transportation Facilities.

While Columbia at present is an inland town, 20 miles from a railroad, she has three motor cars making four trips to Campbellsville daily. Time, 2 to 2½ hours, and two stage lines making four daily trips, and is the distributing point for mail to all adjoining counties.

CHURCHES.

Four churches—Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian—all having fine church property and good pastors.

EDUCATIONAL.

Columbia has two endowed colleges, the Lindsay-Wilson Training School, established by the Louisville Conference, a Methodist institution, and the M. & F. High School, a Presbyterian institution. Both of these colleges are institutions of learning unsurpassed by any others in the South. Last year they enrolled between 500 and 700 pupils. The financial and moral support given these colleges by the citizens of Columbia and vicinity assures them everlasting life, one already being over 50 years old and having given to Kentucky some of its most useful and brilliant men.

The above facts are mentioned simply to show those who are wanting homes or an ideal locality in which to raise and educate their families, that these lots are profitable investments.

That it would be a matter of impossibility to find a locality more pleasant to live in or a more profitable investment.

The geographical location of Columbia assures a division of the L. N. Railroad. So do not hesitate to come to the Lot Sale July 26, 1906, and purchase a home and make yourself much better off in this world's goods with a little timely investment.

The weather has become settled, the ground is dry enough to work and farmers are making use of the time.

MCGREGOR, TEXAS.

I receive the News every Friday and I have concluded to write a few lines for publication.

McGregor is a thriving city of 3,000, about twenty miles from the county seat. It has two railroads, Cotten Belt and the Santa Fee. This county is not as level as I expected to find, but it beats plowing on the hillside with a jumping coulter, getting kicked in the short ribs occasionally with the plow handle.

It is very dry here. It has not rained since the first Sunday in June. We are having hot winds, and unless it rains soon the crop will be very short.

Wheat and oats have been cut and threshed, the yield being 40 to 80 bushels per acre. Corn is selling at 50 cents per bushel; Oats 34 cents and wheat 87 1/2 cents.

We live 4 1/2 miles from McGregor, one mile from Church and Sunday School.

I have been here three months and have not heard a cow bell nor seen a cow on an old broom sedge field yet.

There is one thing about the dirt here. If you will stick to it when it is dry it will stick to you when it is wet.

Last Sunday Geo. W. Griffin shot and killed his brother, Jack Griffin, near Edmonston, Ky. The dead man was advancing on his brother when the fatal shot was fired. The fight is said to have occurred over the dead man's wife, who left her husband and went to be the home of his brother for protection.

Mr. J. P. Hutchinson bought and shipped last month 5,909 dozen of eggs and 5,908 pounds of chickens. This is much better than Mr. Hutchinson has usually done in any month preceding June and clearly indicates that the American hen will eventually prove her worth throughout the country.

It was our pleasure to spend the glorious Fourth in the progressive city of Lebanon, and while we enjoyed the exercises on the Chautauqua grounds, yet the meeting of old friends, not seen for a decade, far more than out-classed and will out-live the sweet music of singers and instruments and the charmingly attractive exercises of the day.

RAPID TRANSIT FOR OUR MAIL.

On and after the 16th, of this month the Columbia Motor Car Company will carry the mail to and from Campbellsville and all intermediate points. The company was awarded the contract for this service on a 24 hour schedule between the two towns. This change will deliver our mail much earlier and give more time on the end of the line for mailing—two features of good service. Within a few days the company will have a new machine that will displace the first one put into service and which failed to prove itself satisfactory. The one ordered is built to meet the demands in every particular.

We are authorized to state that the advertisement in the News sold all of Mrs. J. B. Coffey's fine O. I. C. pigs in a very short while. If you have merit behind an announcement in the News you will not regret advertising and if your goods are not up to date in quality the News does not want the advertisement. Good service to both seller and buyer is our intention.

The Adair County Sunday School Convention will be held at the Lindsay-Wilson School building in Columbia on Saturday, July 21st. Every Sunday School in the county should have one or more representatives present. All Sunday School workers and friends of the cause are invited and requested to attend. Addresses, discussions, new methods and good music will make the meeting both enjoyable and instructive. Program will be published next issue.

Mr. G. W. Robertson returned last week from New Mexico with a smile on his face that made him look 20 years younger and that indicated that he was pleased with that delightful region. He placed upon our desk some samples of corn, wheat and oats which are up to the average of Old Kentucky, and if the samples represent an average annual crop of that section those of our friends and neighbors have not made a mistake in driving their stakes on that western plateau.

At last the Burkesville people have decided to hold a fair and stimulate the raising of better stock and the growing of better products. A company has been organized, grounds purchased and active work begun in putting up all necessary buildings for its successful holding beginning August 28, and continuing 4 days. Its officers, J. R. Keen, Pres., R. Young, V. P., V. P. Jones, Sec., C. W. Alexander Treas., are men who will make it a success. Situated as Burkesville is and surrounded by the great resources common throughout Southern Kentucky, the fair ought to be a great success. Gentlemen, here's hoping that you will never have a regret in this progressive step and that your efforts will prove of much worth to your town and county.

P. W. AND B. F. FLOWERS.

The following notices are taken from the Altus Oklahoma News. The two gentlemen mentioned were reared in this county and are well remembered here:

P. W. Flowers came to Elmer from Kentucky, January 1891, and located on one quarter section about three miles northeast of town. He landed in Hees, as he terms it—"with just what I have on my back, and have never gone hungry, and now have my place well improved." He has a wife and three children. He is a brother of Postmaster Flowers and is a school trustee, his term expiring in June. He is a progressive and industrious man and is giving all that he can to upbuild Elmer and community.

B. F. Flowers, the postmaster of Elmer, came to Greer county from Texas in 1888. He is a native of Kentucky. When Mr. Flowers came to this part of the county there was nothing but cattle and ranches scattered here and there. He took up a section of land and became a farmer and a successful one. In February, 1902, he was appointed postmaster, receiving the appointment under the McKinley administration. A new handsome postoffice has just been finished, with ample and up to date accommodations into which the business will soon be moved. Postmaster Flowers is something of a land owner, owning 20 city lots and one-half section of good farm land.

Our Gradyville correspondent furnishes the following item: There has been for the past week an old man on the road between East Fork and Columbia. He stops at every house he passes and demands in a very uncouth manner, something to eat. At several dwellings without solicitation, he walked into the dining-room and coolly helped himself. When asked his mission, he answered, "None of your business, I am getting tired answering the question." He carries a 44 S. & W. and a bowie knife, a lot of old blankets and a little meal. His outfit was examined by our correspondent and Clem Keltner, but understand the old man was not present. Our people are charitable and take a delight in helping the needy, but I think Sheriff Patterson should "nab" the old man and present him to the County Judge, that an inquiry might be held.
